ESP International Acquires Industrial Seal

ESP International (www.espint.com), a global company, serving OEM off-highway equipment markets, announced the acquisition of Industrial Seal of Dallas, TX as of July 1, 2014. Industrial Seal is a seal distribution company that serves the Industrial OEM and Oil & Gas markets that has provided quality seal product and services in the Texas, Oklahoma, and Louisiana region for over 30 years. Industrial Seal is strategically located off the LBJ Freeway in Dallas, TX and is well positioned to also service existing ESP customers throughout the Southern United States.

With a strong reputation for service and commitment to customer satisfaction, Industrial Seal has been a major supplier of seal product and related services. Industrial Seal shares ESP International's core values of Expertise, Service and Passion and offers a similar level of top notch technical support. The combination of the two creates a customer service and technical support capability that is unmatched in the market. Industrial Seal and ESP International are well suited to provide "best in class" solutions for all of the market's critical seal needs.

"The Industrial Seal team is passionate about the same thing we are and united by a common culture— a passion for innovating and a drive to deliver superior service," stated Jeff Hamilton, CEO of ESP International.

An ESOP company based in Cedar Rapids Iowa, ESP International has served the industrial OEM markets for over 45 years with in-house application engineering, component design, seal expertise, contract assembly and logistic and VMI services. With branches in Shenzhen, China and Chennai, India, and now, Dallas, Texas, ESP is committed to providing total support to all global service needs.
